All questions spark conversations and memories that span well beyond the pages of this book. Compare your answers from one year to the next to have a written record of your thoughts, interests, faith, and love for each other. Drop a favorite photo into the picture-frame slot in the front cover and you will have a personal keepsake to treasure forever!

Here are some of the benefits of writing a journal It gives you a power of perspective. Discover yourself through writing. Sometimes it's so much easier if it's written down. It helps to reflect on the things you have done and things you need to do in the future. Writing a journal helps clear your thoughts and feelings. Lots of problems are solved when they are written down. It will help you improve yourself. Clarify your thoughts and feelings. Help you be more confident. Rather than letting emotions being bottled up, it comes out on paper and helps you to be happier in yourself. Questions You'll Wish You Asked Jun 25 2019 This journal deepens the mother/daughter bond while creating a keepsake for when conversation is no longer possible. With journaling questions for Mom such as: "What have you learned from heartbreak?" "Is there a book you hope I'll read?" "When you're gone, what is something you'll want me to remember you saying?" These questions will transport you from the daily routine into a time when the ordinary has been rendered sacred. Whether you're a parent looking to leave a legacy to your child, or a child recording memories of your parent, make time for the questions you'll later wish you asked: your future self will thank you. Commonly asked: who is this journal for? The journal provides over 100 questions for a mother to answer for her daughter. It makes a perfect baby shower gift for a new mother of a baby girl, keepsake gift for an aging mother or daughter, and thoughtful present for mothers and daughters of all stages in between. Some daughters sit with their parents and fill out the journal while asking the questions: this invites thoughtful conversations, generational connection, and intimacy. Others choose to purchase the journal for themselves, fill it out, and later present it as a gift to their daughters. This journal can be an especially thoughtful gift for a mother who has lost her own mother; the "motherless" mother often deeply recognizes the importance of recording thoughts and memories for her children.

Self Discovery Journal Apr 15 2021 What would happen if you had a child and left him or her unattended without care or attention for a day? How about a couple of weeks? Even worse, how about several months or years? I know, it's almost too cruel to think about. As kids, we're in full connection with the child inside of us. We run, we play, we chase after things that we enjoy and love. We may not realize it, but we're deeply connected to who we are and what we want. As we grow older, however, we lose this connection and leave ourselves unattended for much too long. We are introduced to words, and words have narrow meanings. Time and time again we've been labeled by our peers and parents through the use of these words. This has happened for so long that we act as if we're programmed to follow them. In short, we lose sight of who we really are and what we really want. This book serves as an invitation to a journey of self-discovery. My aim is that my readers will be able to: Disassociate from labels others have placed on them that are hindering their journey of self-exploration. Stop reliving negative karmic cycles and disassociate from past experiences. Learn about their personal VITALS and preferences in the human hierarchy of needs. Find who they are and what they want in every area of their lives through 200 carefully designed questions. Finally, reconnect with themselves and strengthen their sense of self. Welcome to Self Discovery Journal.

100 Questions Every Person Should Ask Themselves Nov 30 2019 100 Questions Every Person Should Ask Themselves is a journal for those who want to dive a little deeper into who they truly are and what they need to do in order to become the person they want to be. It's a wonderful book for anyone going through a big life change or for those who feel like they need a new direction and a fresh start. Just remember that self-examination can be painful. So be ready. This journal pulls no punches. But if you're honest with yourself, and honest in your writing; you'll find that by the end of this journal you'll have learned much more about who you are and what you should be doing to get where you need to be. 100 Questions Every Person Should Ask Themselves is set up so that you can go at your own pace; whether that means doing multiple entries in a day or just one a week. Feel free to skip around and choose the question that is perfect for that specific day. And while this journal is aimed

Questions You'll Wish You Asked Oct 02 2022 This journal deepens the father/daughter bond while creating a keepsake for when conversation is no longer possible. With journaling questions for Dad such as: "What is a concert you'll never forget?" "What should I look for in a relationship?" "When you're gone, what is something you'll want me to remember you saying?" These questions will transport you from the daily routine into a time when the ordinary has been rendered sacred. Whether you're a parent looking to leave a legacy to your child, or a child recording memories of your parent, make time for the questions you'll later wish you asked: your future self will thank you. Commonly asked questions: Who is this journal for? The journal provides over 100 questions for a father to answer for his daughter. It makes a perfect baby shower gift for a new father of a baby girl, keepsake gift for an aging father, and thoughtful present for fathers and daughters of all stages in between. Some adult children sit with their parents and fill out the journal while asking the questions: this invites thoughtful conversations and generational connection. Others choose to purchase the journal for themselves, fill it out, and present it as a gift to their children. This journal can be an especially thoughtful gift for a father who has lost a parent; these fathers often deeply recognize the importance of recording memories for their children. This journal is also a thoughtful gift for adult children whose parents may be struggling with early signs of memory loss, dementia, or Alzheimer's; asking these questions can jog a parent's memory, inspire thoughtful conversation, and provide a space to appreciate the parent who still remains. If I have multiple kids, do I need multiple journals? Most questions in the journal are about Dad himself, but there are also questions particular to each child. For this reason, most parents choose to have one journal for each child; this also eliminates the need to "choose" who eventually receives the journal. However, it's also possible to answer these particular questions separately for each child within one journal.
