Seasonal Quartet (Autumn, Winter, Spring, Summer) Oct 22 2021 From the Man Booker Prize finalist: Seasonal Quartet is a series of four stand-alone novels, separate but interconnected (as the seasons are), wide-ranging in timescale and light-footed through histories, which, when taken together, give us something more—all four united by the passing of time, the timing of narrative, and the endless familiarity yet renewal that the cycle of the seasons is. Grounded in current politics, in the work of artists Pauline Boty, Barbara Hepworth, Katherine Mansfield, and Loretta Mazzetti, and in Shakespeare's four final romances The Tempest, Cymbeline, Pericles, and A Winter's Tale, the Seasonal Quartet is "one of modern fiction's most elusive and most important undertakings" (Charles Finch, The Boston Globe).

Autumn and Winter Poetry Mar 15 2021

Autumn, the leaves turn color and the rain hits the windowpane all day long. We are bored looking outside the window and sleeping with the soothing rain sounds. There is the walk in autumn in solitude and the crisp autumn breeze against the background of beautiful autumnal color! A carpenter on a winter vespertide is chopping yule logs for the fireplace. The fire is rekindling all day and night while we relish a cup of hot coffee in our rocking chair. Smoke rising on the chimney rekindled against the cold of the winter air. What do we do but sequester in a cottage or the family room to dwell the winter months in readership by the fireside and cherish the decorated house filled with greeneries and ornaments. Various birds, the snowbirds perched on the hedge ready to foray its prey! The city life this wintry time is bustling with people out shopping or chilling at the pub or touring the city, just looking out the window that is snowing!
